

Marketing and Social Media Internships at a cutting-edge Mobile Startup

Trolion Apps is leading the development of next-generation mobile marketing platform on various smartphone devices (iPhone,Android). Our LBS(Location Based Services) App involves Social/Local/Mobile Technologies built on a game layer. We provide a unique marketing platform that empowers merchants to reach receptive customers in real time, and implement dynamic and targeted marketing campaigns. Trolion Apps already has a rapidly growing network of merchants and potential clients ready to utilize our value added marketing services.

If you are someone who is always dreaming of creating the next big thing or if you are someone who wants to be doing what no one else is doing, we love to talk to you. We are a highly-motivated team that values camaraderie and technical innovation. We are looking for enthusiastic and talented interns to work with our marketing team. We are looking for multi-media designers, web designers, bloggers, budding marketers, and social media mavens.

As part of the internship, candidates will learn how to:

- Conduct marketing research and generate leads and sales through different marketing channels and promotions
- Interact with students and student groups on college campuses
- Brainstorming marketing campaigns
- Managing social network and geo-social network accounts

Required:

- Ability to learn quickly and handle high-pressure deadlines
Communication, marketing, and English majors are preferred, though all majors are welcomed to apply
- Is highly motivated, hard-working, flexible, and responsible
- Able to work well independently and in groups
- Knowledgeable in Microsoft Word, Excel and social media. Adobe Photoshop experience a plus
- Master of Facebook, Twitter and Youtube

- You are super excited about an opportunity to work with a fast growing company doing some really cutting-edge stuff.

Interns participate in an intense program working closely with our marketing manager and CEO. In addition to time spent in our office, there will also be a heavy emphasis on field work in and around the college campuses.

We ask that all qualified and immediately available candidates send a resume and brief introduction to HR@TroLion.Com. We are offering both paid and unpaid internship positions. This is an opportunity for rapid advancement. Please feel free to email us for more information on this posting.
